MARTIN'S ENGLISH SERGES

The most delightful of all cloths for Spring and Summer wear, can be found here, worked into the most fetching styles for menlyoung and old. Few people stop to study Serges; few tailors know how to handle serge cloth. It is the most treacherous of any goods to make. hence the great number of poorly fitting, wrinkled, puckered Serge suits you see on the backs of men.

The Serges we are showing were made by expert Serge workers, tailors who never handle any other cloth from one end of the year to the other--they know every whim and peculiarity of Serge that the average tailor, who makes ten or fifteen a year, never has a chance to study. Our hundreds of sizes enables every man to be fitted before he leaves our house. Our twenty different styles affords the opportunity of seeing just what style garment is best. We show the new, extreme long sacks, medium length sacks and short sacks in single and double-breasted with as much cutaway or as little to the front of the garment as you wish Center vents and side vents in the coats. You can have with any suit big-hip turn-up trousers or regular style, plain button trousers.

If you want a suit and are undecided what to buy, try a Martin Serge. It will do you good to see these clothes and it will be a pleasure to show

The Arabs are the ideal norse masters. They believe that the character of the horse is as much influenced by kind treatment as the disposition of a child. They make their horses their companions, and consequently have the most docile and teachable horse in the world. One place where some farmers make a mistake is in trying to get along with too few horses. A little extra force in horse flesh is a wonderful advantage. Horses that are worked to the limit of their strength will not do as much work, nor do it as well, as those which have a little margin to spare. WHERE DISEASE GERMS BREED.

No Need to Fear "Germs" if the Stomach Be Healthy.

The ideal breeding place for disease germs is a weak stomach and digestive system. The food, instead of being assimilated, turns into a soor, slimy, fermenting mass, caus ing gases, distress after eating, bloating, nausea and fatulency. The poisonous germs that are given off from this undigested food enter the blood, and pimples, boils, and blotched skin is the result. Nety-ousness and eleeplessness come more often from weakened digestion than from any other one cause.
